Determining ISR
Requirements to Provide
Global Maritime Domain
Awareness

Media Partners:

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to the Maritime ISR Summit!

With focus shifting to next generation warfare and to the threat of peer adversaries, we no longer have the luxury of assuming domain superiority in future conflicts. This threat to superiority is most prevalent in the colossal task of securing the maritime domain. With threats manifesting through drug trafficking, illegal immigration, terrorist activity, piracy, and potentially surface and submarine warfare DoD and our NATO partners have identified a capability gap that needs closing. The U.S. Navy and many NATO allies have made large advancements in filling this gap with the recent acquisition and operational employment of platforms like the P-8A, as well as the unmanned MQ-4C Triton for broad area maritime surveillance. They are also updating their sensors and continuing to invest in mission system suites as the USCG, DHS and DoD have all made efforts to develop and implement the MINOTAUR system on their platforms. Our partners are also updating their platforms with advanced sensor suites and C4ISR capabilities while defining requirements for and identifying the next generation of Maritime Patrol Aircraft (MPA).

Over the three-day summit we will look at what the threat environment looks like for agencies in the maritime domain from a variety of perspectives including defense, homeland security, and international. In evaluating those threats we will attempt to determine what the ideal MPA platform looks like, should we continue to invest in large anti-submarine warfare (ASW) manned aircraft with large torpedo bays, or can technology allow us to put smaller munitions on unmanned craft that can still conduct the ASW mission. We will also attempt to determine what the landscape looks like for the future of manned and unmanned teaming of MPA platforms along with other persistent ISR capabilities like, Tethered Aerostats, and satellite monitoring to collect and disseminate actionable intelligence. The collection, analysis, and dissemination of this information to joint, international and domestic agencies is the only thing that will enable our ability to maintain maritime awareness and security now and into the foreseeable future.

Don't miss the opportunity to understand the current and future requirements for Maritime ISR, as DoD, DHS and NATO continue to evolve Maritime Domain Awareness and Security.

See you in August!

Respectfully,

Frankie Yip

LEARN FROM JOINT, INTERNATIONAL, AND INDUSTRY PARTNERS

PLATFORM ROADMAPS AND LIFECYCLE MANAGEMENT

Hear plans for current platform upgrades, and requirements for next generation MPA platforms from program managers and industry partners.

INTERNATIONAL MARITIME PARTNERSHIPS

Future conflicts will rely heavily on integration with international partners. Understand the requirements our allies are identifying for coalition MPAs to ensure comprehensive integration.

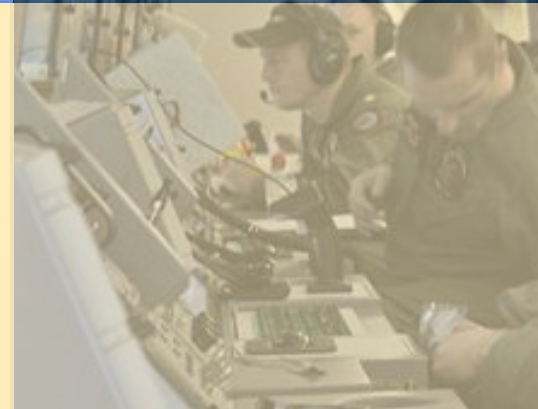

NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

Engage with senior military, law enforcement, and industry representatives that will shape the future of Maritime ISR development.

TARGET YOUR BUSINESS GOALS

Skip the trade show and take advantage of our targeted speaker faculty and attendees by having in-depth, meaningful engagements with potential clients and business partners.

MARITIME THREAT ENVIRONMENT

Understand the changes in the maritime threat in environment and what challenges we face from military, law enforcement and border protection perspective to better inform your product development.

BREAK INTO NEW MARKETS

Our audience will be comprised of local and international military, domestic federal and state law enforcement along with a variety of industry partners that will enable cross domain solutions to be shared in new settings.

PROVIDING MARITIME DOMAIN AWARENESS TO MAINTAIN DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

HAVE A QUESTION?

Submit your questions pre-event or at the registration desk to get the answers that address your most pressing challenges.

CROSS DOMAIN SOLUTIONS

Have a solution for Maritime ISR that fills a variety of roles? Interact with our experts from across the maritime domain security community in defense, law enforcement and border protection agencies. challenges.

MARITIME THREAT ENVIRONMENT FOCUS DAY

TUESDAY, AUGUST 22, 2017

Given the complexities of the maritime domain, providing effective ISR and awareness solutions requires an in-depth understanding of the challenges as currently configured and into the future. Join our Maritime Threat Environment Focus Day in order to understand the current challenges as described by our panel of experts from Domestic and International Military, Law Enforcement and Border Protection agencies.

As these Joint, Interagency, and International speakers describe their own specific challenge area's, we will develop the foundation of requirements that will drive discussion on platform development, acquisition, and operational employment in the days to come.

ASSESSING OPERATIONAL THREATS TO MARITIME DOMAIN DOMINANCE

In previous conflicts the U.S. Navy and its allies have enjoyed relative superiority in the maritime domain. With the proliferation of high speed, long range platforms as well as advanced munitions, it is imperative that development focuses on detecting and disseminating these threats now in order to enable engagement in future conflicts and maintain a decisive advantage.

ANALYZING DECISION SUPPORT PROCESSES TO ENABLE TIMELY RESPONSE CAPABILITY

With all of the assets available to the modern commander it is sometimes too much information to properly decipher and make a coherent decision. In order to properly allocate and identify how to utilize out intelligence assets we first have to understand how to structure the decision making process they feed.

HOW CAN YOU MEET YOUR MARKETING AND BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT OBJECTIVES AT THE MARITIME ISR SUMMIT 2017!

NETWORKING

Ensure that you have the opportunity to engage with the key decision makers within your industry U.S. Department of Defense, ISR Community, U.S. Army, U.S. Navy and U.S. Air Force. We can create a platform for you to effectively interact with your top customers and prospects in the environment of your choice. This can range from formalized private meetings / workshops right through to less structured networking events such as sponsored drinks receptions, coffee breaks or lunches. Ultimately whatever you decide is the right forum, we will support you in your quest to advance relationships with the key people who can influence the future of your business.

BRANDING

Your company can be elevated to a position where they are seen as a market leader. In a fiercely competitive market you need to ensure that your brand is differentiated from the competition. Failure to create a clear identity will see your organization fade into the background. We ensure that we do everything we can to effectively lift your brand before, during and after the event. Not only do we create a fully integrated marketing campaign, which your company can be part of, but we also offer high impact premium branding opportunities for example on bags, water bottles, pens lanyards etc.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

If you think that you should be viewed as a true industry leader then your need to demonstrate your market knowledge and expertise through a thought leadership opportunity, such as speaking or chairing. This is a highly unique opportunity for your company to educate the market, and as long as you are credible enough to fit into a high level event program, we can position your organization alongside top customers and prospects in our speaker faculty. As part of this speaker faculty your company will be set apart from other industry attendees giving you the competitive edge required to make further strides in the market.
